

"BETTER YET" IS MOTTO OF BARTH COMPANY, KINGSTON'S NEW INDUSTRY

Constantly Improving on Its Products, Which Kingston Merchants Are Offering to Retail Trade—Officials and Employees Like Kingston, Which Reciprocates Their Feelings.

Development at the factory of L. Barth & Son, Inc., which has been located in Kingston less than a year, has been rapid, and new machinery is being received constantly. The company, which manufactures all kinds of hotel kitchenware, occupies the large building which formerly was part of the Packham plant was afterward occupied by various industries.

During the past week Barth & Son have received several wood-working machines which will be installed as quickly as possible and will be used in the manufacture of refrigerators and tables which the company has decided shall be part of the output of the Kingston factory.

At present the plant is engaged in turning out several specialties which are constructed of steel. Bread and pastry ovens are the largest of the articles now being manufactured here. They are of the kind with which all big bakeries, hotels, restaurants and steamships are equipped, but with many improvements over styles which are turned out by other concerns. The model now being made is constructed so that the bread or pastry revolves on shelves inside the oven during the entire time it is in process of baking.

Little Improvements That Count.

Little additions which make the products of Barth & Company more valuable to their users are being made constantly. One day recently when overseeing the testing out of a large oven which was being built for a big New York hotel, General Manager Max L. Reben noticed that the handle of the door through which all pastry passes in and out of the oven was hot to the touch, and that when the door was open a large amount of hot air escaped. With the aid of Superintendent Charles Neer, he quickly devised an attachment whereby the oven door is opened and closed by the foot, thus allowing the baker the free use of both hands and allowing the door to be closed quickly, without the loss of heat. All pastry ovens hereafter will be built with the new attachment, which has been highly commended by chefs and bakers who have seen it.

Big Run On Ranges.

A coal range constructed of steel and used largely in hotels, restaurants and boarding houses, is having a big sale and that department of the Kingston factory has been busy for some time filling orders from various parts of the country. The contractors' camp which is maintained in connection with the construction of the Shandaken tunnel has been equipped with two such ranges and Barth & Company have been notified that the contractors consider them the best they have ever used in any of their camps. Shipments of these ranges to various sections of Sullivan county and to Catskill have been made within the last few days.

Little Things That Count.

The company, among other things, turns out a large quantity of metal cans. These are used for various purposes—ashes, fats, and numerous other things. An ash can seems a simple thing, but Barth & Son decided to make their cans better than others. So they are making them of steel plates three-sixteenths of an inch in thickness and have recently added a new kind of handle. A prominent hotel man who visited the plant during the past week while a Freeman reporter was there said his hotel had been compelled to buy ash cans constantly because the material was so thin they did not last and the rough usage they received caused handles to be broken off within a short time. But the Barth product, he said, would stand the test, and when installed in his hotel would reduce the bills for ash cans which had been growing larger each year.

New Design For Bake Pans.

Steel bake pans form another important product. Heretofore such pans have been made principally for hotels, restaurants, boarding houses and steamships, but the company is making a smaller size for ordinary household use. Instead of being made of thin iron, the pans of Barth & Company are made of sheet steel, which insures not only durability but better and easier baking. The pans are made with three strips of steel extending lengthwise along the bottom, with the result that the danger of warping on the bottom of the pan is reduced to a minimum and the temperature for baking is more even.

Pans Being Tried Out.

The new pans are being tried out in various families in Kingston. Among those who are using them are Mrs. Charles Neer of 44 Garden street, Mrs. Warren Neer, 34 Brewster street, Mrs. Robert Hogan, 190 Tremper street, Mrs. John Carter, 45 Jorold street, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, 125 Green street, Mrs. Sidney D. M. Hudson, 35 Lafayette avenue.

In an arch electric current can be represented and supplied cheaply to consumers, the Barth Company does believe that the development of elec-

SYMPHONY DATE FIXED FOR MAY 16

Owing to difficulty in arranging for the soloist desired for the coming Symphony Orchestra Concert to be given in May, the orchestra has only now been able to announce the settled date for the concert, which they expected to give the first week in May. The concert will be given on May 16 at the Opera House, with the public rehearsal for the school children in the afternoon. Please take note, particularly of the date, Monday, May 16. The orchestra will be, undoubtedly the best that the people of Kingston have been privileged to hear in a long time, the number of good musicians in our city today making this possible, as there is at last, a decided and growing interest in the orchestral concert which interest has been greatly augmented this season by the recent Musical Memory contest. The news of the final date of the concert has come in too late to make more than this brief announcement. Full facts as to soloist, program etc., will be made in a few days.

THE REPORTER GOT IT.

Former Crown Prince Gave Him Interview He Sought.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Paris, April 30.—A French newspaperman who cornered the former German crown prince by hiding behind a tree near his Dutch villa and emerging as the ex-crown prince approached, obtained an exclusive but not very enlightening interview. "So you want an interview," said the former heir, to the German throne, with a grin, "well here it is, but be sure and quote me correctly: 'Da Da Da, Da Da Da, Da Da Da, Da Da Da'."

And with that the former crown prince hurried back to his villa.

France Has Huge Army.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Paris, April 30.—Not since the days of Napoleon has France's military strength in peace time been so powerful as it is today. Marshal Foch has at his beck and call the greatest army in Europe. It is estimated that France has nearly 1,000,000 men under arms while it is reliably reported that other classes will be called to the colors. France has a powerful ally in Poland lying on the eastern side of Germany. Poland's armed strength is put at 600,000 bayonets.

The United States Government in Its desire to have prepared for its boys cooking utensils that will give the best results specifies that each kitchen shall have strapped roasting pans. These are used on board battleships, in camps, field hospitals and wherever else cooking is done in accordance with the dietary requirements of the United States government.

"I know frequently when a housewife and her husband are partaking of a roast in the dining room of one of our hotels or restaurants in discussing the roast it is frequently stated that the result is obtained because the chief is especially skilled in preparing the roast. There is no question that if we were to investigate his kitchen we would find that the roast is prepared with a heavy strapped roasting pan. The chef would certainly not use the type of pan that is sold throughout the country for household use.

"This has caused me to start experimenting with a view to getting the strapped roast pan into the home. Where better could I start than in my own home? I requested my mother to try out one of these pans. At first she was dubious, starting that the pan was exceptionally heavy. However, she gave me her cooperation and has been putting that strapped roast pan into the home. I am today if I endeavored to take this pan from her it would only be accomplished by giving her another one in its place, because she has found the pan a splendid medium for the proper preparation of her roast. It is now, fish or beef, and she is also using it for baking bread.

"Mrs. Charles Neer, wife of our superintendent, as also Mrs. Warren Neer, wife of our foreman, etc., etc., have all been trying out this pan in the past week and report they were pleasantly surprised relative to the results they have been obtaining from these pans.

"It has been found that in the heavier pan there is a great deal less likelihood of burning the roast, the thickness of the metal makes burning a great deal less possible as the straps lie the pan slightly off the hot surface of the oven and in addition these straps facilitate the sliding of the pan.

"The Barth roast pan is built to last generations. When delivered to the store it has a coat of oil; this to prevent rusting of the pans. When the pan is in use there is no likelihood of rusting as the juices of the roast as well as the butter or fat in which the roast is prepared gives the pan a proper protective coating.

"I am confident that when these pans are once tried in the home that due to their dependability and the results obtained there will be an ever increasing demand for them to take the place of the light strapped pans that are so prevalent at the present time."

What Mr. Reben Says.

General Manager Max L. Reben is particularly interested in the introduction of the new bake pans in Kingston homes, and he says: "I am a firm believer that every home should be in possession of one of Barth's heavy strapped roasting pans. This pan is one that we make in various sizes and has been used for a good many years by those who insist upon having the proper facilities for making a roast palatable.

"The strapped roasting pan is no new thing. Every restaurant or hotel chef demands a strapped roasting pan."

LAYING OF CONVENT CORNER STONE AT POLISH CATHOLIC CHURCH SUNDAY

Impressive Ceremony Will Mark the Occasion of Laying Cornerstone of Building That Will Give Immaculate Conception Parish a Complete Equipment.

On Sunday, May 1, 1921, at 3.30 p. m., an impressive ceremony will take place at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Delaware avenue, when the corner stone for the new Convent of the Immaculate Conception will be laid. The program for the ceremonies will be as follows:

At 3.30 o'clock p. m. a solemn procession will be formed at the Church and at that time Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be given.

The Very Rev. John J. Hickey, Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Kingston, and dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, will be the celebrant; Rev. Doctor Francis Szubinski, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Poughkeepsie, will be the deacon; Rev. Stanislaus Tenerowicz, pastor of Perpetual Help Church, Hudson, N. Y., will be subdeacon, and the Rev. Francis Lesniewski, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, will act as master of ceremony. The address will be delivered by the Very Rev. Dean John J. Hickey.

Immediately following the benediction the procession will march to the new convent, which is in progress of erection and which is situated next to the church rectory. There the solemn and official blessing of the corner stone will take place, this very inspiring ceremony being in charge of the Very Rev. Dean John J. Hickey.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Diocesan Consultors of the archdiocese of New York, His Grace the Most Rev. Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, D. D., expressed his most hearty approval for the erection of the new convent. The parish of the Immaculate Conception has long felt the need of a convent and home for the sisters who have charge of the Immaculate Conception school, and realizing this the pastor, the Rev. Francis Lesniewski, after an earnest appeal to his parishioners and friends has been assured of their support for its immediate erection and it is expected that the new convent will be completed and ready for occupancy by July 1, 1921. The plans for the new convent were prepared by Gerard W. Batz, architect, of this city.

With the erection of the new convent the Immaculate Conception parish will be complete in every detail and the Rev. Pastor Lesniewski has assured his people that they will not be called upon to lend assistance in the erection of any more buildings, as the parish is now in possession of a large and spacious hall and recreation rooms, a school, rectory, church and also Mt. Calvary cemetery.

Father Francis extends a general invitation to his many friends to attend and assist at the laying of the new corner stone.

BICYCLE THIEF MADE ESCAPE

Friday afternoon a bicycle owned by Fred Carr, son of Arthur G. Carr the undertaker, was stolen at the high school which the Carr boy attended. Shortly after a fellow aged about 30 years, with a short stubby mustache and wearing a brown suit of clothes, came to the shop of Van Williams & Ellison, 775 Broadway, and offered a bicycle for sale. Mr. Ellison recognized the wheel, which was an "Adlake," as belonging to Fred Carr and asked the man who offered it for sale where he got it. He said he had been in the navy and that his brother gave it to him a year ago. Evidently seeing that Ellison recognized the bicycle, the thief ran through the shop to the back yard, jumped a high board fence and made a getaway through St. James street. The police had been notified and Arthur Carr, a policeman, Mr. Ellison, and Eddie Cline, who is employed by Van Williams & Ellison, went out scouting. The Cline boy saw the thief on St. James street near A. D. Rose's house under a porch and from there he tried to hide under a bush. Seeing he had been detected he told Cline "if you don't leave me alone I'll shoot you. Then he ran away and no trace could be found of him after that. The stolen bicycle was restored to Fred Carr by Van Williams & Ellison.

SUPREME COUNCIL MEETS TO DETERMINE STEPS TOWARD GERMANY

Allies in Accord but France is Expected to Dominate—No Further Word from Berlin Although a Note from Simons to Great Britain is Expected.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, April 30.—At a conference of the British and French prime ministers a few hours before the opening of the supreme council meeting today, Premier Lloyd George suggested that an ultimatum be sent to Germany giving her one week to make new indemnity proposals before the allies move troops into the Ruhr district. It was learned this afternoon that the conference was held at Mr. Lloyd George's official residence at No. 1 Downing street just before noon.

President Briand was accompanied by M. Berthelot, representing the French foreign office.

Although there is absolute unity and accord among the allies, French influence is expected to dominate the meeting of the supreme council which is to determine definitely whether or not the German Ruhr district is to be occupied to compel Germany to meet her indemnity obligations and other military penalties are to be put into effect by Marshal Foch.

The present meeting of the supreme council is a momentous event not only for Germany, but for the allies as well. The first session of the council was scheduled to open at four o'clock this afternoon, but it was believed that the all important subject of indemnity would not be taken up until Sunday.

The allied representatives assembled no further word has come from Berlin that Germany was amplying her indemnity offer, but reports persisted that Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister, probably would send a note to Great Britain.

The Daily News was authority for the statement that, if Germany failed to make an amended offer, Premier Lloyd George was expected to acquiesce formally in the military occupation of the Ruhr district and also to send British troops to assist in extending the zone of occupation in Germany.

The United States will not participate actively in the supreme council meeting, but Washington will follow closely the developments.

An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Rome quoted the Rome Tribuna as saying: "Italy would not be surprised if America vetoes the allies' decision at the London conference."

France has an imposing diplomatic and military delegation in London. It includes Premier Briand, who arrived last night; Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied armies; Marshal Joffre; Gen. Weygand, who directed the Polish counter offensive against the Russian armies last summer; M. Berthelot, of the French foreign office and M. Loucheur, minister for Liberated Regions in the French cabinet. In addition there are numerous experts and secretaries.

Count Storza, the Italian foreign minister, delayed his arrival in London. To some extent he is the "unknown quantity" although it was expected that he would agree with the decisions of the majority in the council.

The experts who have been studying the German indemnity proposals have drawn up a report for submission to the council. The experts held an important meeting last night when they discussed possible variations of the Paris decision, which demanded 226,000,000,000 gold marks and a 12 cent export tax from Germany. The figures of the Reparations Commission, which held that Germany had caused 132,000,000,000 gold marks war damage (exclusive of the claims of Belgium) were taken into consideration. This meeting was held at the colonial office, and Great Britain, France and Belgium were represented. The suggestion has been made that a new commission of reparations experts be created including a representative from the United States.

Lord Aberdeen, the British ambassador to Germany, who arrived from Berlin last night, conferred with members of the British government this morning.

Mother Takes to Slang

Now mother's talking slang because throughout the livelong day, she says she hears so much she can't talk any other way.

She said to dad at dinner time, "I'm off of you for life. Because you always gum the works by eating with your knife!"

The preacher called at 4 o'clock and mother started in by being very proper, but ere long she saw him grin.

And was it any wonder when she said, "What gets my goat, is having all the hens remark, 'That is her last year's coat!'"

But most of all when sister's beau called on her after tea, and I thought, I would stick around, "My son, I want to put you wise. Your sister's in the mood to hand you one unless you beat it while the beating's good!"

1. When did snow shoes come into use?
As far back as Xenophon, the practice of the Armenians was noted of equipping horses in winter with a sort of skin boot to help support the foot while traveling through snow drifts. Procopius, a Byzantine historian, speaks of the ancient Lapps as using some sort of snow shoe, and apparently this article of wear was a recognized feature in the Lapps' appearance, for their name in the Norse tongue means "sliders." The Norse sages are full of evidence of the use of snow shoes earlier than the Christian era.
2. Are there any gorillas in captivity?
So far as we know, there is no living gorilla in America, and it seems improbable that the zoological collections of Europe in the present state of the world, have recently added a gorilla to their lists. These great apes are costly to import from Africa and are fierce and unmanageable in captivity, usually living but a few months. In 1914 the New York Zoological Gardens brought in a young female gorilla, "Dinah," but though she was good tempered and seemingly easy to feed, she stood captivity only long enough to raise false hopes that she was successfully acclimated.

3. How did the Baltimore oriole get its name?
The "Baltimore" part of the name was added by Lord Baltimore, who first noticed the bird while visiting the settlement in Virginia about 1628. He is said to have adopted the colors of the bird for his own, and to have added his name to the bird's. "Oriole" is derived from the Latin meaning golden.

MORE GOOD THINGS.

The following will be useful in preparing a week's menus as there is some thing which each member of the family will enjoy.

Squaw Dish.—Place one-half pound of thinly sliced strips of bacon in a hot frying pan and cook until the bacon is crisp and brown; occasionally pouring off the fat and turning frequently to keep the bacon from burning. Drain from the fat, leaving four tablespoons of fat in the pan; add one-half cupful of hot milk and one cupful of corn; cook until soft; if cooked corn is used it will not need as long cooking. Season with salt, pepper and paprika and serve on a hot platter around the bacon.

Prune Pudding.—Take one cupful of ground uncooked prunes, one-half cupful of sugar and when well mixed add two well beaten eggs, three cupfuls of milk, one-half teaspoonful of orange extract and one thick slice of buttered bread. Cut the bread in small dice and stir into the custard. Bake slowly until the custard is set and the bread is brown. This takes an hour and a quarter in a slow oven to cook the prunes.

Poached Eggs With Cheese Sauce.—The thrifty housewife who has packed her eggs when the price was at its lowest will now be able to have egg dishes and not feel that she is extravagant. For three eggs and three slices of toast make one cupful of cream sauce, using two tablespoonsful of butter, the yolk of one egg and one cupful of milk with seasoning to taste. Add one-half cupful of grated cheese and stir until the cheese is melted. Break the eggs into salted water and poach them until the desired consistency. Dip the edges of well toasted bread into hot water, arrange on individual plates, butter and pour over the sauce, then place the well-drained eggs on each. If preferred the egg may be placed first and the sauce poured over it.

Tasty Sandwich Filling.—Add two tablespoonsful of cold water gradually to three tablespoonsful of peanut butter to make it smooth enough to spread. Beat until creamy and add two tablespoonsful of tomato catsup. Mix thoroughly and spread on thin slices of bread.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE,
XLIV.—UTAH

THE first white excursion into Utah dates back to 1540 when a party of Spaniards, sent out by Coronado succeeded in penetrating to the Colorado river. There is no authentic record of further explorations until over 200 years had elapsed. In 1776 two Franciscan friars, in their attempt to find the shortest way to the Pacific, went from Santa Fe to Utah Lake. The Great Salt Lake, however, was not discovered until 1824, when James Bridges, a trapper, in wandering through this region came upon this huge island, salt sea.

But the real history of Utah begins with the rise of Mormon power there. Discouraged by the agitation in Illinois and Missouri, the Mormons decided to emigrate to the great West. In large caravans they traveled across the plains and in 1847 came to Salt Lake City where they settled. Here they flourished, increasing their numbers and by 1852 they reached a total in this vicinity of over 15,000. Meanwhile, in 1848, by the terms of the treaty of peace with Mexico, a huge western tract, of which Utah was a part, was ceded to the United States. As no definite government was arranged for the control of affairs locally was for a number of years entirely in the hands of the officers of the Mormon church. They, accordingly, made up a constitution and organized under the name of the State of Deseret. This is a word taken from the Book of Mormon, and signifies, "Industry." Application was made for admission to the Union, but this was refused and the federal government instead organized the Territory of Utah in 1850. The first governor was Brigham Young, the successor of Joseph Smith and president of the Mormon church.

The attempt to do away with polygamy met with little success until in 1890 the Mormon church finally agreed not to countenance it. Meanwhile, growing antagonism between the Mormons and non-Mormons verged nearly on civil war. Finally a general amnesty was declared and after many requests Utah was accepted as the forty-fifth state of the Union in 1896.

Mrs. G. B. WOOD AND GEN. LEE.

It seems that General Wood is to leave the army and become the "big" head of the University of Pennsylvania, the present acting president continuing the business management of the institution. This is not altogether without something resembling a precedent. General Robert E. Lee, retiring commander of the disbanded Confederate forces, accepted the presidency of Washington College, Lexington, Va., which then became known as the Washington and Lee University. General Lee performed important public service in this position through his influence on the young men of prominent Southern families, whom he counseled to accept and strive to make the best of the new conditions with hope, courage and resolute endeavor. What General Wood can or will accomplish at the University of Pennsylvania remains to be seen.

"If General Wood were like General Lee," comments the New York Freeman, "we should congratulate the University of Pennsylvania with all our heart and say that it had made an incomparable choice. General Wood, however, resembles General Lee only by an almost inconceivable complete failure to resemble him in any particular, even as a soldier, hence, while we should like to do the polite and handsome thing, we are at a loss for any ground upon which to base our felicitations."

General Wood may not be in the class of General Lee, one of the greatest soldiers of history, but even if General Wood were the peer of General Lee, we suspect that the editor quoted would not be any too appreciative in his comment at the present time. The Freeman, a very ably edited New York periodical now only in its third year, is noticeably unenthusiastic about the army or anybody recently connected therewith. It is guardedly yet sharply critical of the activities of the American Legion, especially in connection with that body's protest meetings and warnings against German propaganda. Seemingly neither the Allies nor anything connected with the war through which Germany was undone can be sure of the approval of the Freeman, which, for example, sneers at Lloyd-George for fulminating against (country-wrecking) British labor as the enemy of civilization "just as he was wont to do against the Germans during the war," thus intimating that the German militarists were not the enemies of civilization. There are many indications that much of the able comment of the Freeman is subtly pro-German.

A SHOCKING STORY.

Many Americans thought it unwise to bring home any of our soldier dead long after burial in French soil, but admitted that the Government should respond to the urgent request of relatives. "The whole sad business was forgotten until recently when a published statement signed 'Owen Wister' greatly shocked the reading public by its assertion that 'piles of these poor fragments of human beings lie at Hoboken unclaimed' and that 'now many go to Potter's Field.' Mr. Wister is described as 'a writer of fiction,' with reference to his profession or pastime, not to his painful announcement. But the latter is fiction also, according to Captain Shannon of the Graves Registration office at Hoboken, who has published the following statement: "The bodies of the men who died in the war had not been brought back unless relatives made a written request. Of the 14,455 soldiers' bodies which have been returned from France only two have not been claimed by their relatives. These two were finally buried in Arlington cemetery, Washington."

As this official statement indicates that the sad business was long since over and done with, it would appear that Mr. Wister has based his peculiarly gruesome and unwelcome variety of "non-fiction" on an old bear-story dating back to a time when perhaps there was some temporary confusion due to failure of relatives to turn up promptly or send directions for shipment.

One of the choicest gems of Prohibition literature is furnished by Frederick Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer, who says one of the mistakes made by his department was in not making the standard of medicinal preparations high enough to render them unfit for beverage purposes. But the problem can be met, he says, by compelling them "to be more highly medicated in order to render them unfit for use for beverage purposes." That is the essence of present-day Prohibitionism. If a sick person or an invalid needs medicine, why not compel him to take a lot of it? If he needs medicine for liver or kidney trouble, why not combine something with it to cure warts? If he has a cough or cold, why not mix something with the cough syrup that will remove hoarseness? It makes no difference whether he has corns or boils; he will have them before the active Prohibitionist gets through with him. The physician's judgment as to the particular kind and amount of medicine which should be prescribed is of no consequence; some more medicine should be added anyway, as long as it is necessary to have medicinal preparations "more highly medicated in order to render them unfit for use for beverage purposes." Is it to be wondered that the average citizen resents Prohibition and everything connected with it?

As the Allies framed and insisted on the Sevres treaty which the Greeks are making war on the Turks to enforce, and as the Allies have agreed to remain neutral now that Greece is getting the worst of it, it looks as if there is some basis for the charge that the Greeks have been "abandoned and betrayed." They should, however, have been less ready than they were to start another fight in these weary times.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, April 30.—Mr. and Mrs. William B. Turner and Mrs. G. F. Disbrow of Perth Amboy, N. J., were motor guests of Mrs. Turner's father, Silas W. Perrine, Thursday. William H. Vanderveer is having his residence on Broadway painted. H. H. Vincent is doing the work. A purse with a sum of money was left on the counter at the store of George W. Shultis on Broadway Monday of this week. Mr. Shultis would be glad if the owner would call and identify the same. Legrand T. Doyle is painting the house of H. E. McKenzie on Broadway.

The very interesting play entitled "Rev. Mr. Dayton Up To Date" will be given in Pythian Hall Tuesday evening, May 10, at 8:00 o'clock. Doors open at 7:30 p. m. This play is exceptionally good and should be well patronized. It is some time since the people of Port Ewen have been offered such a treat.

AT THE THEATERS.

Dorothy Dalton at Keeney's—"Godless Men" at Opera House.

Dorothy Dalton, the girl who put the "man" in romantic, is appearing at Keeney's tonight in "A Romantic Adventure." You'll want to see the masquerade reveal at the famous New Orleans carnival. Behind the scenes on the "Broadway" of a big Broadway revue, a Dixie Belle exploited in New York's money market, "Lady Beautiful" masked dance at a millionaire's midnight party, the great Yale-Harvard football game and gambling for love and gold in the "devil's playground" at Monte Carlo. Monday, George Walsh in "The Plumber."

You may have read the powerful deep sea story, "Black Pearl," by Ben Ames Williams, which was published in the "Red Book" Magazine. If you did you know what to expect of "Godless Men," showing at the Opera House again tonight, where it has made a sensational hit the past two days. "Fatty" Arbuckle in "The Rough House" is also bringing down the laughs. Monday and Tuesday, William Farnum in "His Greatest Sacrifice."

THEIR designs are a delight to the artistic taste; their colors are rich, lustrous and lasting, turning with age to beautiful soft harmonies such as one sees in choice specimens of Oriental art.

They are woven with scientific accuracy that makes them soft and pleasant under foot and yet produces a pile so close and compact that it will not mat down even under continued pressure.

We would like to show you the new Spring designs and patterns in these beautiful floor coverings and prove to you how very moderate they are in price.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Wednesday morning at the usual K. H. S. assembly, three members of the senior class gave a little one-act skit dealing with the trials and tribulations of a poet in his attempt to gain fame and a name for himself. Kenneth Van Weynen played the part of the poet while Wessels Ten Eyck took the part of the poet's pal. Miss Marlon Hendrickson personified Fame. The play was very clever and was well produced. The poet is seeking Fame and writes sonnets day after day, throwing them in a pile at the base of a throne which he has set up for Fame. His pal comes to see him and finds him writing and tries to discourage him and to get him to set to work at something more profitable. However, the poet is set on attaining Fame and at last he does so. The acting showed that there is really some good talent in Kingston High School when it comes to putting on plays and playlets.

Friday was the six hundredth anniversary of the achievements of Dante, the great Italian poet. In accordance with this fact, Prof. Lewis invited the Rev. Dr. Nicholas of Woodstock to come and address the students on the subject of Dante and His Achievements. Dr. Nicholas is an enthusiastic student of the works of Dante and has so thoroughly studied them that he has a most complete and clear understanding of their meaning and greatness. He told of the wonderful imagination that Dante was blessed with and how he used it to a most profitable advantage in writing the wonderful sonnets that he did. Dr. Nicholas stated that only the most learned men could read Dante and understand his writings as they should rightfully be interpreted. He said that it was one of the greatest things that a man could do, was to read and interpret Dante in the right way. Dr. Nicholas in his introduction spoke about the wonderful building that the high school is and of the fine condition it is kept in.

This afternoon the high school baseball team is playing in Poughkeepsie. If the boys lose this game it will not be their fault as they are in excellent condition.

Paraffin Treatment for Burns. The use of a few drops of paraffin is an English physician's first aid suggestion for treating burns. The application can be made from a paraffin candle held at a height of seven or eight inches, but care is to be taken to avoid forming a coating so thick as to be unbearably hot. A piece of gauze or linen is spread over this layer, with another coating of paraffin outside.

The AMERICAN LEGION

LEGION MEN IN HOSPITALS

One-Third Ex-Servicemen in Hospitals Are Members of the Great Organization.

One-third of the ex-servicemen who are confined in hospitals in thirty-two states are members of the American Legion, according to a report of the Legion's service division, who bases his report on figures compiled in a national census of disabled men taken by the Legion.

With one-third of the disabled men enrolled in the Legion, against one-fourth of the other eligible ex-servicemen, it is shown that the Legion has secured in its campaign for justice for the sick and wounded of the World War. Mr. Murphy declared: "The disabled men have not joined the Legion for the selfish purpose of obtaining compensation, but for the Legion service is extended to veterans regardless of Legion membership."

"Although the principal effort of the Legion is to aid the sick and wounded, American work and many other projects beneficial to all ex-servicemen are being accomplished by the organization. These movements are expected to result in a greater percentage of Legion members among those who left the service without physical handicap."

TO HOLD PRO-GERMAN MEETS

Business Alleged for Purpose of Protecting Against Negro Troops in French Army of Occupation.

Pro-German meetings planned for the near future in a number of cities in the East and Middle West will be closely watched by the American Legion, according to national headquarters of the ex-servicemen's organization. The series of meetings, it is understood, will be held for the purpose of protesting against the reported presence of negro colonial troops in the French army of occupation, despite the fact that the troops in question were withdrawn many months ago.

Cities in which the meetings are scheduled are Milwaukee, Omaha, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Louisville, Chicago, Cleveland and New York. It is understood that Dr. Edmund von Mach, who was rebuffed at Washington, D. C., in an effort to enlist the aid of F. W. Galbraith, Jr., Legion national commander, in the project, and George Sylvester Viereck, notorious Boche magazine editor, are among the hypnotized Americans who are sponsoring the movement.

A bulletin from Legion national headquarters, warning state headquarters to watch for an attempt to revive German propaganda and to create sentiment in America hostile to the allies, has been sent out, and steps have been taken by national officials to influence the Department of Justice to prohibit the meetings.

"A recurrence of German propaganda activity in this country is something the Legion has been watching for for some time," said Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion. "I feel that the greatest check to a movement of this kind will come from citizens of Teutonic extraction, of whose loyalty and sincerity there can be no doubt. Loyal Americans should know of the sinister efforts to turn sentiment in favor of the nation with which technically we are still at war."

NAY HEAD SENDS GREETINGS

Josephus Daniels, Retiring Secretary, Expresses Appreciation for Part in World War.

A message of greeting and appreciation to the members of the American Legion was written by Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, just previous to his retirement from office. The message follows: "Upon my retirement as the direct head of the navy, which place I was privileged to hold during the World War, I wish to send a word of greeting and appreciation to all who belong to the American Legion and all who served their country in the army and navy during these crucial days. It was a privilege I shall regard as the most sacred in my life to have been their commander in these great days. They truly saved the civilization of the world by their spirit and their valor. In the days that are to come the world depends upon them for peace. It is the duty of all of us to be worthy in the new call upon them for the same courage and wisdom in peace which they manifested in war."

Giant Australian Tree. In Australia the eucalyptus tree grows to unusual size, and at the famous exhibition of 1881 there was displayed a tree that was 144 feet in length that was sawed from the trunk of one tree, while pictures of others were shown that were as much as 25 feet in diameter.

LEGION MEN HIT BY RULING

National Judge Advocate Declines Organization Officer Ineligible If Holding Public Office.

A decision of far-reaching importance as affecting the participation in politics of men holding office in the American Legion has just been handed down by Robert A. Adams, national judge advocate of the Legion, in response to an inquiry from the Inter-Pest Council of Los Angeles, Cal.

At its annual election held in December a Los Angeles post elected Channing Follette as commander for 1921. A short time afterwards Follette was appointed justice of the peace by the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county.

The question arose whether, in view of the fact that Follette had been appointed to an office which, in its nature, except in the matter of filling vacancies, is an elective, salaried public office, he was eligible to serve as an officer of the Legion.

In his official ruling the national judge advocate says:

"This being a salaried, elective public office, it is my opinion that the method of filling a vacancy is not essential in determining the eligibility of a Legionnaire holding such office. The office is elective, although the case with which we deal is that of an appointment."

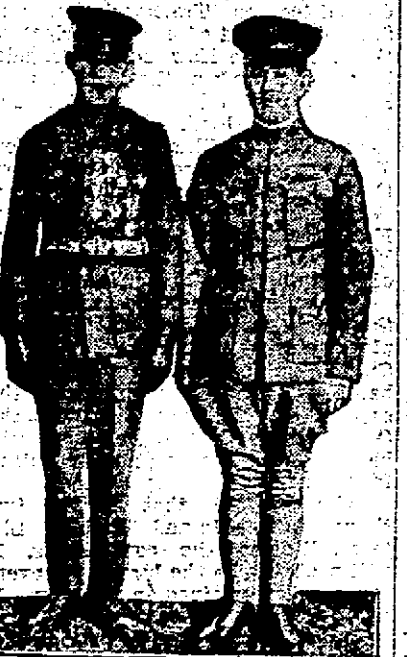

"The purpose of the constitutional provision is, of course, to prevent, so far as possible, the use by a member of the Legion of his Legion membership in furthering a political career. Consequently, the effect of an appointment is in no wise dissimilar from an election, and it is my opinion that the incumbent is, by the acceptance of his office, rendered ineligible for the office of the American Legion."

It is believed that many Legion members, appointed to political offices will be affected by this ruling.

TWO HEROES AS HONOR GUARD

Distinguished Illinois Soldier Deputed to Serve National Commander at Inspection Trip.

When F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, inspected Illinois posts, he was provided with an honor guard of two heroes of the World War, who have received 16 medals and citations for bravery between them.

Left—Sergeant Jack Riley, M. C. of Chicago, is Illinois' most decorated war hero. He wears the Congressional Medal of Honor, French Military Medal, Croix de Guerre with palm and star; Dr. S. G. Navy Cross, Belgian War Cross, Victory Medal with five battle clasps and four citation stars.

Right—Robert Waterhouse, a veteran of the 33rd Division of Chicago, holder of the Distinguished Service Cross, British Distinguished Service Order, Croix de Guerre and Belgian War Cross.

GOVERNOR NEFF AIDS LEGION

Chief Executive of Texas Urges All Eligible to Become Members of the Organization.

Governor Pat Neff of Texas has recognized the importance of the American Legion's effort to extend its influence in that state by giving an unqualified endorsement of the membership campaign now under way.

"Officials of the department of Texas, American Legion, the organization which stands as a living perpetuation of the spirit of the American soldier during the World War, are now making an especial effort to draw more ex-servicemen into their ranks," said Governor Neff.

"The record set by the men who form the department of Texas, during that period preceding November 11, 1918, and the principles advocated by these men since they have welded themselves into the American Legion," he continued, "leads me to suggest that the public would be serving its own best, as well as those of the American Legion, by lending active support to the membership campaign the latter has launched. The former service men who have not affiliated with the American Legion should need no one to point out the advantage to be derived by him and his country through his support of this organization; but in the rush of modern life, some things are overlooked and those who have not the privilege of eligibility for the American Legion may aid by calling this to the attention of their acquaintances who have been in the service."

Whole Household There. When Mr. and Mrs. Smith, with their pet fox terrier, called just before dinner, Buddy hurried to the kitchen, where mother was cooking a chicken, and said: "I'd better make a lot of grass, mamma, 'cause Mr. Smith has brought all his family with him."

Morality, Hygiene, Fashion Unite In A Clarion Call For The Corseted Figure

Social workers and reformers from their investigations of the loosening up of morals in the land are inclined to place a share of the responsibility on fashion and the uncorseted figure. Now, as a matter of fact, this like so many other absurd fads, was born of a mistake or misinterpretation, just as high heels came into vogue, for instance, as a result of Louis' bootmaker's attempt to raise the stature of his diminutive patron, or, as having crinolines skirts came into fashion and were worn by thin and stout regardlessly, simply because Empress Eugenie desired to conceal the ugly lines of her figure.

Paris introduced what she called a "corsetless" gown, but "corsetless" was merely a name and no more, intended to imply that the figure should be uncorseted than that the "corsetless" waist should be fashioned of steel, or that the petal skirts that have been so popular this season should be made of real flower petals; for a Paris dressmaker would no more fit a gown over an uncorseted figure than she would consider sending her favorite customer down the stairs at an afternoon clad in a morning gown.

Laz women, however, of which there were an unusual number at that time, quick to grasp the slightest possibilities of the corsetless suggestion, seized upon it and do liberally set about propagating involving the "uncorseted figure" in the "corsetless" gown and, although comparatively few women have actually discarded the corset as a result—there is a tendency toward the very idea that is mentioned. At any rate, so argue the social workers, the fad, having, as might be said, its very inception in immorality—or shall we say immorality, naturally suggests itself as a cause or effect of the wave of laxness that is sweeping over the country.

They decided that the suggestion was worth investigation and as a result, the corset question has been turned inside out with astonishing results to the corset's advantage.

Certainly no one holds any brief for the old-time corset of curves and many steels, but anyone at all interested in general welfare and good of the country must have a sign for the outward semblance of dignity and decorum that characterized those other days of corsets. Modesty, surely, is a worthy qualification and just as surely there is no suggestion of modesty nor hint of beauty in the bulging unshapeliness of the uncorseted figure.

Verily, to be or not to be corseted, has become not a matter of personal preference, it is become a matter of national importance. It may not be that the moral health of a nation is dependent upon corset wearing, but surely the latter that would discard the corset is significant.

WHERE HUSTLE IS UNKNOWN

Mallorca Justly Entitled to the Appellation Given to It, "Island of Calm."

Mallorca, a tiny speck of an island in the Mediterranean, is a land of peace and ease. A great painter and writer who visited the island, has christened it "The Island of Calm," because there everyone moves, rests, talks, walks and conducts his courtships as if the day had 48 hours, the mile about 16,000 feet, and the span of human life 700 years, so little haste do they make in living and enjoying life. These people who take life so leisurely, are not lazy, shiftless or unpleasant in personal appearance or manner. They are intelligent, honest, capable of work, sober and economical. These characteristics, preserved throughout centuries of uninterrupted peace and tranquility, have made them peaceable, trusting and home-loving. The men are of medium height, strong and agile.

And as for the women, they possess the same lovely skin as the women of North America, features as if sculptured by Phidias or Praxiteles, and they walk like goddesses. But they know nothing of the "joy of living," due partially to ancestral Arabic influences and to the fact that their island has for so long been under strict religious repression.

Mrs. A. C. Doll, wife of a naval lieutenant, to demonstrate the ability to "run a ship" during a hurricane and dread battles about the Atlantic coast and San Juan, P.R. Mrs. Doll took a steamer's place, heading the engine room, maintaining the big levers that carry the boiler orders from bridge to engine, reversing engines, slowing them and showing the coal into the burning firebricks. And she performed her tasks as well as any stoker. She declared, however, that she enjoys most playing about the big guns around the ship. She is shown here in stoker's trousers and with her heavy shirt about the waist.

How do you sit, Miss Stenographer, as you type? Like the girl on the left or the one on the right? The New York Health Centre of the Y. M. C. A. has started a campaign to teach young women to be healthy. Posture has much to do with one's health and the first step in the campaign is to instruct girls and women to sit properly. The subject in these photographs is demonstrating the wrong and right ways to sit. In the wrong way, shown at the left, the body rests on the end of the spine, the back and shoulders are rounded, the chest hollowed, the head bent and the feet crossed and sprawled. The right way, shown at the right, is to sit well back on the chair, feet on the floor, back straight and head and chin up.

DAY OF HORSE ALMOST GONE

Increasing Use of Motor Apparatus Will Soon Make Him Only a Loving Memory.

A defective flue had brought the fire department to Tenth and Tecumseh streets. New, bright red motor apparatus came rushing up from a half-dozen firehouses. Presently a worn old hook and ladder truck, horse-drawn, appeared on the scene. It carried just the ladders the firemen needed to reach the fire.

The crowd that gathered smiled at the picture. The old horses seemed to know that they were playing an important part even in the presence of their enemies, the motor apparatus. It was a picture of a changing time. One by one the motor machines turned away, leaving the horse machine to finish the job.

Somehow the crowd moved toward the horse, and one by one, men, women and children, paused to stroke the manes or pat the noses of the faithful old beasts that now are fast passing to the Land of Memory.

And, somehow, the horses seemed to know and understand. Their heads were not down, however. Instead, they looked around and saw that the enemy had left the fight to them.

"Still on the job," they would have said had the crowd the power to understand them.

Yes, still on the job, but—going—going!—Indianapolis News.

At the recent convention of the United Daughters of 1812 at Washington a number of the delegates called on Mrs. Harding and were entertained by the "First Lady of the Land." When the photographer made his usual appearance "Laddie Boy," the White House pet, was right on the job.

JURY OPPOSED TO
AUTO KILLINGS

Finds Fred Elwyn Guilty Of Manslaughter In Second Degree For Killing Charles Wolven At Woodstock.

An Ulster county jury expressed emphatic disapproval of criminally reckless automobile driving in this county Friday afternoon when it found Fred Elwyn of Woodstock guilty of manslaughter in the second degree, as charged in the indictment against him, in killing Charles Wolven at Woodstock on October 15 of last year.

The jury gave full consideration to the case, which was submitted to them by Judge Joseph M. Fowler at 12:30 o'clock. The jury returned from dinner about two o'clock and at once retired to the jury room to enter upon consideration of the case. They had agreed on their verdict of guilty by 4:30 o'clock, but it was twenty minutes before all the counsel in the case were assembled and the jury was brought in court.

The verdict of the jury had been written on a sheet of paper and contained a recommendation to the court for leniency. Each juror had signed the paper.

Andrew J. Cook, one of Wolven's attorneys, asked that the jury be polled, and each juror in answer to his name and the question what his verdict was, answered: "Guilty as charged."

After conferring with William H.
Grogan, Wolven's other attorney,
Mr. Cook said he desired to make certain motions in the case and asked that sentence not be imposed until he was prepared to make them.

Judge Fowler said the defendant was entitled to two days before receiving sentence, but at the request of the defendant he supposed a longer postponement could be made.
District Attorney Traver said he had no objection. Judge Fowler said he would be out of town Saturday and Sunday and would not return until sometime on Monday.

District Attorney Traver said he would be busy in attendance on the grand jury which convenes Monday, and would be in session each day,
and suggested that the hour be fixed either before the grand jury meets in the morning or adjourns in the afternoon.

Judge Fowler announced he would hear any motions to be made by the defendant's counsel at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, to which time court adjourned.

It is said that on the first informal ballot taken by the jury they stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal.

The Tigers used Sutherland, a recruit in taming the Browns. The youngster fanned Siler twice.
Faber was best in a pitchers' duel against Bagby of the Champion Indians, the White Sox taking the game 1 to 0.

The Pirates continued their winning streak by defeating the Cubs.
Barber's one-handed catch against the left field fence was the feature.
The Senators and Athletics staged a ten inning game to a 3-3 draw when darkness intervened.

Rain prevented games between the Giants-Boston and Phillies-Brooklyn.

Roger Hornsby was presented with an automobile but the Cardinals lost to the Reds when Sherdel weakened in the ninth, yielding four runs.

National Bowling League Games.

This evening the National Bowling League games staged on St.
Peter's alleys will be of special interest, as has been shown in the league thus far. The Pirates, who have a renowned team for the scores they have made to the present date, will open fire against the extreme holders, the Reds, and the Braves, who still hang on to the end of the list, will take the floor against the small but prosperous Phillies.

The Man With the Scythe.

Owing to the fact that Nicholas McCabe, the Civil war veteran who has had charge of the city hall lawn for years, has been laid up with three cracked ribs the lawn has not been cut in several weeks. Today a man with a scythe was put to work cutting the grass assisted by a man with a rake.
